JAPAN'S STAND SOUNDS NOTE OF PESSIMISM

American Naval Experts
See Attempt of Nippon to Bargain.

SACRIFICES LEAST

Hughes' Proposal Calls For Less From Japan
Than Others.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The first deep note of pessimism crept into the armament conference today as delegates and naval experts got down to the business of ascertaining the exact significance of Japan's objection to the Hughes' proposal for the limitation of naval armament.

"An attempt to bargain," is the way American naval experts characterized the Japanese proposal for increased general tonnage over the figure set by the Hughes plan, and for equality with Great Britain and the United States in certain forms of auxiliary tonnage of strictly defensive character. There were suggestions that these proposals might be used as a lever in future negotiations in the field of far eastern questions.

The sacrifice Japan is called upon to make under the Hughes plan is by far the least of the three nations involved, it was pointed out, being 448,928 tons in scrapped capital ships, as compared with 583,375 tons for Great Britain and 845,740 tons for the United States. As for the general ratio of 3 to 5 established under the American proposal for the Japanese and American navies, respectively, naval experts assert that this is a distinct concession upon the part of the United States from the old doctrine that the American navy, because of the geographical location of the Philippines should be twice the size of the Japanese.

Though the exact ratio now sought by Japan was not made public officially, it is understood that Baron Kato will stand out for the navy seventy per cent as strong as that of Great Britain or the United States with respect to capital ships and approximately equal in certain auxiliary craft, probably light cruisers.

This would mean an addition of from 30,000 to 40,000 tons in capital ships and in the neighborhood of 175,000 tons in auxiliary craft, according to the interpretations of experts. It is expected that Japan will ask for the retention of one of her newest type ships, probably the Kaga or the Mutsu.

Despite general opposition of naval experts, many of whom were inclined from the first to regard the American proposal as too liberal toward Japan, there is some talk of a possible compromise of the Japanese suggestions.

The two conciliatory propositions most prominently advanced provided for:

- 1.—Splitting the difference between figures set by the Hughes plan and those suggested by Japan provided the latter call for an increase of not more than ten per cent.
- 2.—Allowing the tonnage increase asked for but limiting such increase to the period — of the ten year naval holiday.

The first suggestion is advanced by those who emphasize the need of maintaining the so-called conference spirit, with the idea that the success of the treaty depends upon the unselfish adherence to the "give and take" idea.

The second is based upon the fact that Great Britain enjoys under the Hughes plan a temporary superiority of more than 100,000 tons over the 500,000 ton figure which is permanently fixed under the system of replacement to be established after the expiration of the ten year naval holiday.

A canvass of sentiment today among American naval men revealed almost solid opposition to the proposal of Japan that she be allowed more than the sixty per cent ratio set forth in the Hughes program. The Hughes figure represented the maximum which American naval opinion considered should be allotted to the Japanese navy.

ULSTER ACCEPTS PREMIER'S PROFFER

London, Nov. 18.—Ulster has accepted Premier Lloyd George's suggestion that informal talks be held between unionists, Sinn Feiners and the British premier, it was announced today.

COURT RULING NULLIFIES ACT

Washington, Nov. 18.—The supreme court decision in the case of Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, nullifies the corrupt practices act, in so far as it applies to the primary expenses of Senators and representatives, according to an informal decision by Attorney General Daugherty today, sent to Rep. Luce of Massachusetts.

The attorney general in his opinion holds, however, that candidates for election to the house are required to file a statement of primary expenses, but senators are not required to do so.

GUARDS ENTRANCE TO ARMS CONEERENCE

Before entering the Limitation of Armaments Conference in Washington, delegates and others attending the sessions must present their credentials to a military guard which has been placed about the buildings.

Business Conditions Are Improving Declares Gary

Steel Head Says Taxes Are Too High in Address In New York—Limiting of Armaments Will Have Little Affect in Industry He Believes.

New York, Nov. 18.—"Decreases in the demand for steel, if any, will be small," while benefits derived from peaceful conditions resulting from limitation of armaments would "be beyond calculation," E. H. Gary, head of the U. S. Steel Corporation, told the members of the American Iron and Steel Institute today. Gary is president of the institute.

Judge Card intimated that a further reduction in the cost of living and in wages paid to certain classes of labor "was not necessary."

He said—that business conditions were growing better "perceptibly" but he would not commit himself when normal business activities might be expected.

In discussing Mexico, Judge Gary declared the government "to the south of us was now a stable one" and that it "deserved recognition at the hands of the United States."

He said there was still too much profiteering and he advocated governmental supervision in various industries to stop it.

Texas are much too high, the steel head asserted and urged lowering of income taxes and the adoption of a federal general sales tax.

After lauding progress made at the Washington arms limitation conference, Judge Gary said:

"The suggestions by some that there will be less steel manufactured as a result of armament limitation are unworthy of even passing notice. In the first place, the amount of decrease, if any—which is doubtful—would be small and even though it might be large, no sane and right spirited person would consider pecuniary interest as of any importance when discussing national or international warfare."

As to the business outlook, Judge Gary said:

"It seems to be generally conceded that business conditions throughout the United States for the last six months have been perceptibly and steadily, if slowly, growing better. In the steel industry, the volume of business has more than doubled in the last ninety days, although profits as a rule have been small, or nothing, due to high and low prices."

"Resources of our country are so enormous and the necessities of the consuming public are so expansive that there must be continually transacted a large business, even though it is small when compared with maximum periods."

"Even though we have passed the most critical period in our recovery, I will think we would not be warranted in concluding we have arrived at the point where we can, with certainty, predict the exact time when there will be a return to a normal financial and commercial industrial basis for the world's economic structure has been terribly shaken by adverse winds in the last few years. There must be further adjustments."

ANTI BEER BILL PASSED BY SENATE

Washington, Nov. 18.—The conference report on the anti-beer bill was adopted by the senate today, by an overwhelming vote.

The report, having been already adopted by the house, the bill now goes to the president for his approval.

The vote was 56 to 22.

RAIN SAVES LIVES OF MANY MASONS

Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 18.—Belief was expressed today that rain, which extinguished the fuse of a bomb found at the state armory, prevented loss of life among 1,000 Masons gathered at the armory for a lodge meeting. The bomb was discovered at the entrance to the building, and is believed to have been placed there after the lodge members began their meeting. The bomb resembled the hand grenade in type and was charged with sufficient picric acid to have caused havoc, police say.

SISTERHOOD MEETS

Marion, Nov. 17.—Delegates from Marion, Mansfield, Lima, Kenton and other cities gather here today for the annual meeting of district No. 6, of the Ohio Federation of Temple Sisterhood. The meeting was opened with a welcome address by Mrs. Mitchell Strelitz.

ARBUCKLE JURY TO REPRESENT PANL'S CREAM

Appears Certain That Five Women Will Be in the Box

STATE CHALLENGES

Attempts to Remove Juror
—Judges to Make Next Move.

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—A jury of twelve men and women who will determine the guilt or innocence of Roscoe Arbuckle ("Fat") who is being tried for manslaughter as a result of the death of Virginia Rappe was selected and sworn in 10 minutes after court reconvened for the fifth session of the trial today. The task of selecting alternate jurors provided for under the California law in the event of illness, or death of any of the original twelve was then undertaken.

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—The game of chess which has been played here all week with women members of the jury panel as pawns and the future liberty of Roscoe Arbuckle as the prize, was near an end today.

One or two more moves and the game played with consummate skill by Gavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, and District Attorney Prady for the state will be over. And then the taking of testimony will begin.

But old hands at criminal practice will hold the case was won or lost in the selection of the jury.

Never in the memory of local courts has a jury been selected with more care than has that which will sit in judgment on America's heavy weight laugh producer of the screen. Many have been the comments on the high calibre of the jury panel examined. And the jury now in the box unquestionably represented the cream of the panel.

The first move today was to be made by Judge Harold Louderback. Last night when a jury was all but sworn, George R. Morgan, one of the first jurors accepted, arose and announced his state of mind would not permit him to remain on the jury.

The state used its last peremptory challenge—a threat held to the last over the head of the defense—to remove the spokesman called in his place. Then came L. J. Granfield, who admitted an opinion favorable to the defendant, but which he said would not prevent him from rendering a fair verdict. Their last peremptory challenge gone, the state fought bitterly to keep him off the jury. The juror smarting under the attack commenced a verbal assault of the district attorney, when Judge Louderback halted him and adjourned court until today when he will decide whether Granfield remains. If he stays, an alternate juror—the thirteenth—will be selected to guard against mistrial in the event of sickness of any of the first twelve. If Granfield goes off his successor must be chosen and then the thirteenth member.

The defense has its ace in the hole to use if necessary—a peremptory challenge.

It seems certain that the jury will have on it five women, four of them married and one single. Out of thirteen women on the jury panel, 12 have been drawn. There exists the possibility that this last woman juror may be drawn today and if accepted, will make the jury half and half.

District Attorney Brady will make the opening statement to the jury following its final selection and the case will be on.

FORD'S PLAN FOR BUSINESS REVIVAL GIVEN TO OFFICIALS

Project Dependent on Control of Government's Nitrate Plant

Washington, Nov. 18.—The plan of Henry Ford to inaugurate a business "renaissance" throughout the south by harnessing water power was to be laid before the government today for approval.

Ford's project, dependent on his control of the government's huge nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals for the next century, was to be discussed in full with Secretary of War Weeks this afternoon.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover was to be present at the conference.

Ford, who arrived here late yesterday was accompanied to the conference by Wm. B. Mayo, his consulting engineer expert. The Ford plan, it is understood was developed by the auto magnate from experiments conducted on his own farm at Dearborn, Mich., and participated in by Mayo.

Ford's plan was confident that he would reach an agreement with Secretaries Weeks and Hoover. He told newspapermen that he believed he "would come to terms" with the government.

The Detroit financier planned to leave Washington tonight if possible. Should the government indicate an acceptance of his project, he may make an inspection tour of the south in his private car.

SEVERAL KILLED IN INDIAN RIOTS

London, Nov. 18.—Several policemen were killed and others were wounded in the rioting of Hindu natives at Bombay upon the arrival there of the prince of Wales, according to a news dispatch received here today.

The police fired into the crowd, causing a number of casualties the dispatch said. The mob was said to be still unsubdued.

ONE KILLED; SEVERAL HURT

Chicago, Nov. 17.—One man was killed and several persons injured early today in a collision between two trains on the Oak Park elevated line at the Crawford Avenue station. Dense fog is believed to have been responsible for the wreck.

OLD WORLD DIPLOMACY COVERS CONFERENCE

Illness of Japanese Ambassador Gives Respite From Quick-Moving Program of Meeting—Chinese and Armament Problems Still are Unsettled.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The third plenary session of the conference on the limitation of armament will be held Monday, Nov. 21 at 11 a. m. in the Continental Memorial Hall, it was officially announced by the secretariat general of the conference today.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The thick haze of old world diplomacy settled down like a blanket today over the activities of the armament conference. The pace has been fast since the meeting opened six days ago things have moved with a swiftness never before equalled in international gatherings of such vast importance.

The illness today of Baron Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador and one of Japan's principal delegates, offered a respite from the almost constant contact of the diplomats for the past week. The baron's indisposition forced a postponement of the scheduled meeting of the full nine powers at which was to be taken up China's "declaration of independence."

Delegation meetings and the continued session of the "committee of admirals" considering the application of the Hughes' naval program were on today's program.

China's ambitious plan for her rehabilitation is one that requires deep study on the part of the powers and, while it comes as no surprise to those having extensive holdings in China, its concrete application to existing conditions never the less requires a great deal of consideration.

Thus far, from the cautious utterances of the spokesmen for the various powers, the powers have received the Chinese proposals as follows:

The United States: General approval of the entire program.

The British empire: Cautious approval of most of the program "in principle" and a willingness to accept the program as a basis for discussion. Great Britain is believed willing to relinquish Wei-Hai-Wei but is understood to be staunchly opposed to giving up Hong Kong.

France: Willing to fall in line with any general policy agreed upon for the far east, her interests not being as vital as those of Great Britain and Japan. Would be willing to give up Kaung Tchou and extra territorial rights in common with other nations.

Japan: Cautious acceptance of the proposals as a basis for discussion. "is understood to be reconciled to giving up Shantung, but is prepared to resist efforts to dislodge her in Mongolia and Manchuria. Also insists that her geographical propinquity entitles her to "special consideration" in China, as regards obtaining raw materials, outlet for excess in population, etc.

While the diplomats pondered China's case within their own quarters today, the naval experts continued to struggle with the naval proposals.

Progress has not been rapid in the adjustment of the conflicting views of American, Japanese and British experts. On the contrary, there were unmistakable indications today that little has been accomplished.

The American experts are steadfastly insisting upon the terms laid down in the Hughes program. The estimates were made with such care the Americans contend, that no room was left for "trading."

Briefly summarized, the Japanese and British objections are:

Japan believes she is entitled to seventy per cent strength in capital ships instead of sixty. Also believes that in certain auxiliary ships she is entitled to "practical equality" with Great Britain and America.

Great Britain objects to the American submarine proposals and the auxiliary ship allowance, particularly in light cruisers. Is understood to be reconciled to the ten year naval holiday proposed, after first objecting.

It was learned today that no progress at all has been made in adjusting the divergent British and American views concerning submarines.

YOUTH CONFESSES KILLING PARENTS FOR LOVE OF GIRL

Michigan Man Admits Crime to Young School Teacher.

Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 18.—Richard Champlain, 22, veteran of the Lost Battalion will be sentenced to Jackson prison for life today because he murdered his father and mother in defending the name of his 19-year-old school teacher sweetheart.

It was the girl he loved that finally wrung from the youthful slayer the confession that puts him behind the bars.

"I didn't do it because I wanted their money—I did it because they called you names," he told Clara Humpert, who teaches seventeen pupils in the Pratt district school seven miles from here.

"I love you more than any one else I've ever known and when they ran you down to me, I could not stand it. I went and got a gun and shot them—my father first, and then my mother. I shot my mother twice."

Then he told all the harrowing details of the crime in which he killed his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian B. Champlain, and burned their bodies almost beyond recognition by setting fire to the house.

HOUSE IGNORES HARDING'S PLEA

Washington, Nov. 18.—Disregarding the expressed wish of President Harding, the house yesterday voted 201 to 173 to accept the senate amendment to the tax revision bill fixing the minimum income surtax rate at 50 per cent on incomes of $200,000 or more.

BRITISH POLICY TOWARD CHINA TO AID NATION

Representatives of Empire Believe "Open Door" System Best Way

ATTITUDE LENIENT

Impression Prevails That Britain May Sacrifice Wei-Hai-Wei.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Great Britain's policy toward China was outlined officially today as embodying a desire on the part of the British government to do everything in its power for the rehabilitation of China and to assist the latter in taking her proper place in the commercial life of the nations of the world.

The representatives of Great Britain at the conference, it was stated believe that the maintenance of the "open door" is the best way of creating commercial prosperity and they will urge the adoption of a policy of "international cooperation" for the benefit of China.

The official impression was given that Great Britain would be willing to sacrifice Wei-Hai-Wei but it was clearly indicated that Hong Kong is regarded as having a "separate status."

Concerning the question of "extra territorial rights" it was pointed out that England had entered into a treaty with China 18 years ago under which she agreed to discontinue her courts in China when guarantees were given that the Chinese ministry of justice was competent to give proper treatment to British nationalists, thereby taking the same view now advanced by the French.

Any special rights which Great Britain possesses now in China will be dealt with "for the general well being" not only of China, but of the whole world, it was stated.

OHIO RIVER BOAT SINKS; ALL SAVED

Cincinnati, Nov. 18.—The 200 ton steamer Chilo, Captain Ward, carrying 30 persons including two women and a heavy cargo of freight struck a projection on top of Government dam 35 opposite New Richmond and sank in the Ohio river at 10 o'clock last night. All on board were saved in the steamer's life boats. Rescuers also came from the shore in answer to the distress calls of the steamer's whistle.

A few moments after the last person had left the steamer it turned over on its side and disappeared in 30 feet of water.

The boat was owned by Captain Gordon Greene of Cincinnati and valued at $15,000.

PREMIER OF ULSTER CANCELS FRENCH TRIP

London, Nov. 18.—Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, has cancelled his proposed visit to France, where he was to unveil a monument to unionist world war soldiers, because of an attack of acute influenza, it was announced today.

The Daily Chronicle commenting on the Irish situation, said that although Craig in his reply to the government ultimatum maintained the Ulsterites refusal to enter a conference on the basis of recognition of central parliament for Ireland, he had expressed a willingness to enter conversation if this condition was withdrawn.

The Daily Graphic said that in view of Ulster's rejection of Lloyd George's scheme for settlement of the situation in Ireland, the British premier's only alternative was to resign. "His resignation may be expected at any moment," the newspaper added.

Social and Personal

PRETTY HOME WEDDING IN JAMESTOWN, THURSDAY.

In the presence of a small group of friends and relatives, the marriage of Miss Doris Brown, and Mr. Davis Russell Little, well known young people of Jamestown, was solemnized at the country home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brown, Thursday afternoon, at three o'clock.

The Rev. Charles Moorman, a great uncle of the bride, read the service before a bower of ferns and honey-suckle, in the living room of the Brown home. Tall wicker baskets of yellow chrysanthemums were placed on either side of the altar, this flower being used in profusion throughout the rooms. During the service, Miss Cleo Zeiner, at the piano, softly played "My Dear."

The bride wore a smart suit of brown, with hat and foot-wear of the same color. Her flowers were a corsage of Ophelia roses.

A two course luncheon was served, following the service. At the bride table which was attractively laid, with yellow satin ribbons streamers, and a handsome centerpiece of yellow roses, with yellow candles in crystal holders at each corner, covers were laid for the following: Mr. and Mrs. Little, Miss Cleo Zeiner, Miss Marjorie Galvin, Mr. Robert Har-mount, of Delaware, and Mr. Max Moon. The remaining guests were seated at small tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Little left for a short wedding trip, and upon their return will reside in Jamestown.

CHARMING EVENING PART GIVEN THURSDAY.

The home of Mrs. H. L. Dice, at 440 South Columbus street, was the scene of a charming evening party, Thursday, when Mrs. Clifford Dice received the members of the S. P. Club and several other friends, honoring the Misses Nila and Mary Garrett, who are leaving soon to spend the winter in Florida.

Eleven guests were received during the evening. The entertainment consisted of games, contests and music. During the earlier part of the evening the guests spent the time with their needle-work. Salad, wafers and cocoa were served by the hostess later in the evening.

The guests included the Misses Florence Mitchell, Alma Fry, Nila and Mary Garrett, Ruth Hodge, Mamie Burrell, Cleo Devoe, Levona Jones, Edna Miller and Ilo Long. Robert Garrett, brother of the Misses Garrett also enjoyed the evening's entertainment.

SURPRISED BY FRIENDS, TUESDAY.

On Tuesday evening, November 15, a party of friends from Jamestown, delightfully surprised Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Leach, at their new home on Collier street.

DIVORCE SUIT ENDS ROMANCE

Rumors, persistent for weeks of a crisis in the domestic life of Miss Alice Brady, actress and daughter of William A. Brady, theatrical manager and producer, found confirmation in a Supreme Court order revealing she had sued James L. Crane for a divorce. James L. Crane, who is the son of Dr. Frank Crane, editorial writer, and publicist, is charged in the complaint with misconduct with a young woman last August. Miss Brady's marriage took place while her father was in Europe, news of it not becoming public until two days later. It was a romance of the movies. Miss Brady having met her husband while both were working in the same studio months before. The marriage ceremony was performed by Dr. Crane, the bridegroom's father in his home early in the evening of May 19, 1919.

be utilized as a school. Plans are also under way for the consolidation of the Opportunity Schools of Spring Hill School and Central Building, and the securing of larger quarters.

Styles BY LENORE

So many cloth dresses this season are made with the straight-across or bateau (meaning boat, neckline, without any relief of a softer finish close to the skin, that this should be remembered—a face which is framed severely becomes the more completely detached, and is therefore subjected to a closer criticism of its features. A dark edging at the neck, for example, makes too severe a frame for a sharp featured person. A soft, white collar, on the other hand, takes on grays and has the effect of softening and setting off the delicacy of the skin.

One of the most attractive dresses shown at a recent opening illustrated a clever way of making a utility dress, of navy blue serge, smart as well as practical. The serge was cut over a foundation of old blue, trimmed with the serge in the novel manner shown in the sketch. The belt is of soft material, and the scalloped self-bound collar of creamy organdie.

ROTARY REPORTS EFFORTS TO OBTAIN AID SUCCESSFUL

Dr. R. Kent Finley, chairman of the Rotary Club Committee in charge of the interests of the crippled children, and also of the Opportunity School of the city, presided at the meeting of the C. B. at the regular luncheon, held at the Elk's Club, Friday.

Dr. Finley reported at the meeting that efforts to interest the State authorities in the Opportunity School and the crippled children had been successful, and that the state has agreed to allow $300 to each crippled child, under a law recently enacted.

Dr. R. H. Grube, County Health Officer, and Miss Helen Evers, Public Health Nurse, have completed a survey of the crippled children, and have found that the number will insure the aid of the State. The state law provided that at least seven or more crippled children must be found, to secure the aid of the authorities, who will establish a school for their instruction.

Through the success of the survey, it is assured that a school for crippled children will be soon established in this city. The committee of Rotarians are now working on plans to secure the new building of the Xenia Seminary, on West Third street, to

ADDRESSES FARM OFFICERS AT MEETING IN XENIA THURSDAY

F. L. Allen, representative of the Ohio State University, addressed the officers of the county farm institutes, at a conference held at the office of County Agent, Ford S. Prince, Thursday morning.

Mr. Allen discussed in detail the work of organizing the institutes, how to make them better, and plans for their success. He especially emphasized the importance of publicity, and the expenditure of money to bring results.

Officers of the four institutes of the county were present at the meeting. Caesar Creek and Silver Creek townships sending two representatives. The six officers were, A. J. Sunderland, Sugar Creek township; J. B. Mason, Caesar Creek township; H. H. Conklin, Caesar Creek township; C. M. Layton, Bath township; E. H. Smith, Silver Creek township; and C. I. Ritenour, Silver Creek township.

The institute officers will meet to organize programs for the institute meetings, to be held in the community, at a later date. The schedule of the institute meetings is as follows:

January 9 and 10, Caesar Creek High School, Speakers: Mr. High, of Crawford County, and Mrs. Anderson of Summit County.

January 11 and 12, Fairfield. Speakers, Mr. Breckler, of Defiance County, Mr. Young, of Circleville and Mrs. Weller of Montgomery County.

February 6 and 7, Jamestown. Speakers, Mr. High, of Crawford County, Mr. Gerlaugh, of Columbus, and Mrs. Cartwright, of Delaware.

February 24 and 25, Bellbrook. Speakers, Mr. Johnson, of Williams County, Mr. Pollock, of Delaware and Mrs. Durbin, of Knox County.

SIX COUNTIES NOT FIT TO FARM; SOIL HAS GONE SOUR

"Soil acidity follows as a specter in the wake of agriculture. In the last 40 years there has been withdrawal from cultivation in eastern Ohio alone farmland equal in area to six average Ohio counties, this because the land has become so sour that it can not be farmed profitably in competition with newer lands farther west."

"The reason cultivated soil becomes acid has not yet been definitely determined," adds Robert M. Salter, soils specialist of the Ohio State University, in a pamphlet on "Soil Acidity," to be issued on December 1, by the University. "The results, however, are only too apparent, and must be met by every means now known to be effective."

"A ton of lime to every Ohio acre every four or five years is needed simply to replace soil bases washed away under cultivation. Analysis of river water at Dayton and Zanesville shows the Miami carrying away each year a total of 588 pounds of soil bases from every acre it drains, and the Muskingum carrying away 406 pounds from every such acre."

OHIO STANDS THIRD IN PUREBRED DRIVE TO 'SWAT THE SCRUB'

Though many farmers who promised last summer to fill out a stock census sheet and to enroll officially in the federal "purebred sire" movement have yet to do so, 710 have so enrolled to date and this places Ohio third in the national contest.

So announce specialists in animal husbandry of the Ohio State University, conducting the work in this state. Latest available reports from Washington show Virginia leading with an enrollment of 1509, and Nebraska second with 892 farmers who have pledged never again to have on their farms a scrub sire, bird or beast, and who have filled out a stock census sheet and received their certificate from Washington.

Ohio had, however, the three prize counties of the nation for the quarter ending Sept. 1. Belmont, Hardin and Licking Counties secured enough pledges in the statewide summer drive to attain such distinction, but their farmers have still to clinch this position by coming through with filled-out census sheets, say officials compiling the Ohio results.

Hardin county now leads the state with 126 official enrollments and Belmont is second with 83, then come Washington with 77, Licking with 43 and Coshocton with 40. Through follow-up of all the 1100 Ohio farmers who promised to enroll, it is hoped to put the Buckeye state first among the 44 that are competing for the largest number of certified scrub-free farms.

PRINCIPALS GUESTS AT ANTIOCH THURSDAY

Forty members of the Principals' Association, of Dayton, were guests at Antioch College, Thursday.

The party arrived at Yellow Springs at ten o'clock and at 11 o'clock, Paul C. Stetson, superintendent of the Dayton schools, addressed an assembly of teachers and faculty members of the college on educational subjects.

The visiting educators were guests of the College at luncheon and during the afternoon were taken on a tour of inspection of the College.

RECORD MONTH IS FINISHED BY GREENE COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Members of the Greene County Livestock Shipping Association, have just completed a record month, according to the reports received from the headquarters at Columbus.

During October, there were 85 shippers in the county, who sent out 2,445 hogs, 23 calves and 97 sheep, weighing a total of 473,690 pounds, netting the shippers $39,515.34. The cost of shipping was 68 cents a hundred pounds.

Hopes for an even greater month are held by the shippers for November. The number of shippers who shipped so far equal the total amount during October.

Reports of activities for 40 county-wide live stock shipping associations in Ohio of the 45 that have been organized, reveal, as totaled by F. G. Ketter, director of grain and live stock marketing of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, that during October 4818 shippers took advantage of the co-operative associations to send to market 62,686 animals.

In this lot were 47,458 hogs, 1470 cattle and 11,684 sheep and 11,684 sheep. The stock weighed 11,485,616 pounds and netted the shippers, after all expenses including insurance, were paid, $809,916.56. The average cost was 75 cents a hundred pounds, a slight increase over the previous average.

It is pointed out that these figures reveal the heaviest amount of co-operative live stock shipping ever done in the state. A summary of business for seven months, from April 1, when 19 counties were operating, until October 31, with 40 counties reporting, shows that 21,291 shippers participated, shipping 219,385 hogs, 11,964 cattle, 11,095 calves and 50,783 sheep, a total of 293,232 animals with a weight of 58,670,441 pounds, for which the shippers received a net sum, after all expenses were paid, of $4,334,261.94. It is explained that from January 1 to April 1 a few counties were shipping, also that of the five counties not included in the October report some are just newly organized and have not been shipping long enough to make a report, and it is estimated that the April shipments and those in the five non-reporting counties would swell the total net amount received in the ten months to nearly $6,000,000.

COOPERATIVE SOW SALE TO BE HELD

Plans were made at the recent meeting of the Big Type Poland China Association for a cooperative sow sale, on February 14. The sale will be the third ever held by the Association, and between 20 and 25 breeders will contribute.

May Be First Woman Episcopal Minister In U. S.

Miss Eva D. Corey, of Brookline, Mass.

Mass., may have the distinction of being the first woman ordained a minister in the Episcopal Church.

A canon granting her that honor and privilege is now being considered. She is now the Chairman of the Massachusetts Council of the Church League of Service and is regarded as a public speaker of unusual ability. If the canon is passed women will be allowed to preach but not to administer baptism or Holy Communion.

Weak Kidneys and Bladder MADE STRONG

Thousands die every year from weak kidneys and bladder who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life. If you're subject to weak spells, dizziness, headache, lame back, lack of appetite, puffy eyes, specks, disturbed sleep, cloudy urine, rheumatism, annoying bladder troubles, clammy feet or any other tendency to Bright's disease, Diabetes or Gravel, recognize them as danger signals, warning you. Don't neglect them, but get Dr. Carey's Marsh-Root Prescription No. 777 (Liquid or Tablets) at Sayre & Hemphill's, who with every other good druggist has been authorized to return purchase price on two bottles to all who state they are not benefited.

HERALD 'THE BAT' AS GOOD OFFERING

Advance press notices of "The Bat" the premier Shubert production which will appear at the Opera House here December 9, through arrangements with the Standard Amusement Company of this city, speak very highly of the performance.

Pennsylvania newspapers, where the company has been playing recently, give the piece flattering criticism which herald the offering as the best that has appeared here or will appear here for some time. Thrills, surprises and amusement crowd each other in the presentation of "The Bat," which has probably won more acclaim from the press, and has been accorded longer runs, than any similar offering of recent times.

"The Bat" is the mystery type of story, written by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood and staged by Wagenhal and Kemper.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING IN JAMESTOWN, THURSDAY.

In the presence of a small group of friends and relatives, the marriage of Miss Doris Brown, and Mr. Davis Russell Little, well known young people of Jamestown, was solemnized at the country home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Brown, Thursday afternoon, at three o'clock.

The Rev. Charles Moorman, a great uncle of the bride, read the service before a bower of ferns and honeysuckle, in the living room of the Brown home. Tall wicker baskets of yellow chrysanthemums were placed on either side of the altar, this flower being used in profusion throughout the room. During the service, Miss Cleo Zeiner, at the piano, softly played "My Dear."

The bride wore a smart suit of brown, with hat and foot-wear of the same color. Her flowers were a corsage of Ophelia roses.

A two course luncheon was served, following the service. At the bride's table which was attractively laid, with yellow satin ribbons streamers, and a handsome centerpiece of yellow roses, with yellow candles in crystal holders at each corner, covers were laid for the following: Mr. and Mrs. Little, Miss Cleo Zeiner, Miss Marjorie Galvin, Mr. Robert Har-mount, of Delaware, and Mr. Max Moon. The remaining guests were seated at small tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Little left for a short wedding trip, and upon their return will reside in Jamestown.

CHARMING EVENING PART GIVEN THURSDAY.

The home of Mrs. H. L. Dice, at 440 South Columbus street, was the scene of a charming evening party, Thursday, when Mrs. Clifford Dice received the members of the S. P. Club and several other friends, honoring the Misses Nila and Mary Garrett, who are leaving soon to spend the winter in Florida.

Eleven guests were received during the evening. The entertainment consisted of games, contests and music. During the earlier part of the evening the guests spent the time with their needle-work. Salad, wafers and cocoa were served by the hostess later in the evening.

The guests included the Misses Florence Mitchell, Alma Fry, Nila and Mary Garrett, Ruth Hodge, Mamie Burrel, Cleo Devoe, Leona Jones, Edna Miller and Ilo Long. Robert Garrett, brother of the Misses Garrett also enjoyed the evening's entertainment.

SURPRISED BY FRIENDS, TUESDAY.

On Tuesday evening, November 15, a party of friends from Jamestown, delightfully surprised Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Leach, at their new home on Collier street.

Games and contests were played, Mr. Edward Leach, Mr. Russell Spahr and Mr. Harvey Leach, winning prizes.

Refreshments were served. Those present included the Misses Carrie Harris, Marjorie Leach, Leona Doster, Bertha Orago, Mrs. Russell Spahr, Mrs. Guy Patton, Mrs. Earl Murry, Mrs. B. H. Murry, and the Messrs. Edward Leach, Guy Patton, Russell Spahr, Earl Murry, George Murry, Emerson Doster, R. H. Murry and Mr. and Mrs. Leach.

ENTERTAINS HONORING BRIDE ELECT

Miss Cleo Zeiner was a charming hostess to a group of her friends at her home in Jamestown, Monday evening for the pleasure of Miss Doris Brown, whose marriage to Mr. Davis Russell Little was solemnized Thursday.

The honor guest was presented with many lovely gifts of silver, china, and cut glass. Music and dancing were enjoyed throughout the evening. The color scheme of green and white was carried out in the salad course served later in the evening.

DIVORCE SUIT ENDS ROMANCE

Rumors, persistent for weeks of a crisis in the domestic life of Miss Alice Brady, actress and daughter of William A. Brady, theatrical manager and producer, found confirmation in a Supreme Court order revealing she had sued James L. Crane for a divorce. James L. Crane, who is the son of Dr. Frank Crane, editorial writer, and publicist, is charged in the complaint with misconduct with a young woman last August. Miss Brady's marriage took place while her father was in Europe, news of it not becoming public until two days later. It was a romance of the movies. Miss Brady having met her husband while both were working in the same studio months before. The marriage ceremony was performed by Dr. Crane, the bridegroom's father, in his home early in the evening of May 19, 1919.

be utilized as a school. Plans are also under way for the consolidation of the Opportunity Schools of Spring Hill School and Central Building, and the securing of larger quarters.

Sentence Toronto Auto Thief to Lash.

Sam Steingold, of Toronto, Canada, who is under sentence to be given twenty lashes for stealing an automobile and robbing a store. The judge in pronouncing the unusual sentence, said: "That will take the halo of the movie bandit from off you."

Styles BY LENORE

So many cloth dresses this season are made with the straight-across or bateau (meaning boat, neckline, without any relief of a softer finish close to the skin, that this should be remembered—a face which is framed severely becomes the more completely detached, and is therefore subjected to a closer criticism of its features. A dark edging at the neck, for example, makes too severe a frame for a sharp featured person. A soft, white collar, on the other hand, takes on grays and has the effect of softening and setting off the delicacy of the skin.

One of the most attractive dresses shown at a recent opening illustrated a clever way of making a utility dress, of navy blue serge, smart as well as practical. The serge was cut over a foundation of old blue, trimmed with the serge in the novel manner shown in the sketch. The belt is of soft material, and the scalloped self-bound collar of creamy organdie.

ROTARY REPORTS EFFORTS TO OBTAIN AID SUCCESSFUL

Dr. R. Kent Finley, chairman of the Rotary Club Committee in charge of the interests of the crippled children, and also of the Opportunity School of the city, presided at the meeting of the C. A. B. at the regular luncheon, held at the Elk's Club, Friday.

Dr. Finley reported at the meeting that efforts to interest the State authorities in the Opportunity School and the crippled children had been successful, and that the state has agreed to allow $300 to each crippled child, under a law recently enacted.

Dr. R. H. Grube, County Health Officer, and Miss Helen Evers, Public Health Nurse, have completed a survey of the crippled children, and have found that the number will insure the aid of the State. The state law provided that at least seven or more crippled children must be found, to secure the aid of the authorities, who will establish a school for their instruction.

Through the success of the survey, it is assured that a school for crippled children will be soon established in this city. The committee of Rotarians are now working on plans to secure the new building of the Xenia Seminary, on West Third street, to

BALFOUR CALLS SECRETARY HUGHES' PROPOSITION "A GREAT HISTORICAL EVENT."

How happy we are that it was OUR COUNTRY that called the disarmament convention. In effect, the world congratulates on it as one of the most momentous events of all the ages. And when the delegates came together, how happy we are that it was OUR COUNTRY that with a suddenness that took away their breath, made to the major nations a DEFINITE PROPOSITION just what the United States would do in the way of disarmament and challenged them to like action. This was such a wonderful proposition, so right to the point, that it elicited at once hearty commendation. And it is not we alone of this country that can compliment ourselves on this wonderful act, for we have the highest authority of its appreciation.

One of England's leading statesmen, Hon. Arthur Balfour, and of the British delegates to the Conference, voiced the general feeling of congratulation to Secretary Hughes over his wonderful proposition. He could scarcely have used stronger words of commendation than he did, and considering the high source, we are glad that OUR COUNTRY has this honor. We ask no apology for giving part of Mr. Balfour's speech, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, you have invited those who desire to continue the discussion which began Saturday last. I think it would be very unfortunate if we were to allow the events of Saturday to pass without some further observation.

"Statesmen of all countries are beginning to discover that the hopes and difficulties of peace are almost as arduous and require most as great qualities as those which are demanded for the conduct of a successful war.

"These struggles to restore the world to the condition of equilibrium, so violently interfered with by five years of war, one that taxes and must tax the efforts of everybody, and I congratulate you, if I may, Mr. Chairman, on the fact that you have added the new anniversary which will henceforth be celebrated in connection with this movement towards reconstruction the same spirit in which we welcomed the anniversary celebrated only a few hours ago, the day on which hostilities came to an end.

"If the 11th of November in the minds of the Allied and associated powers, in the minds perhaps not less of all the neutrals—that is a date imprinted on grateful hearts, I think November 11, will also prove to be an anniversary welcomed and thought in a grateful spirit by those who in the future shall look back on the arduous struggle now being made by the civilized nations of the world, not merely to restore pre-war conditions, but to a state that war conditions shall never again exist.

"I count myself among the fortunate of the earth in that I am present, and to the extent had a share in the proceedings of Saturday.

"I listened to a speech which I thought eloquent, appropriate, every way a fitting prelude to the work of the conference which is about to open or which indeed had been opened by the President, without supposing that anything very dramatic laid behind. And suddenly I became aware, as I suppose all present became aware that they were assisting not merely at an eloquent and admirable speech, but at a great historical event.

"It was led up with such art. The transition seemed so natural, that when the blow fell when the speaker uttered the memorable words which have now gone round and found an echo in every quarter of the civilized world it came as a shock of proud surprise; it excited the sort of emotions we have when some wholly new event suddenly springs into view, and we felt at a new chapter in the history of world reconstruction had been opened."

JAPAN AND CHINA'S DIFFERENCES.

The only delegations at Washington that can speak directly for Oriental peoples are the Japanese and the Chinese. But, unfortunately, Japan and China are seriously at variance; while the Chinese delegation will represent only the northern half of the country, the southern part of China at present maintaining a separate government which has not been recognized for purposes of this conference. It is deeply to be regretted that the Far Eastern peoples are not coming to Washington with common aims and purposes. Nevertheless, it might be a great mistake to assume that Americans and Europeans are at this moment content to settle all the questions that have arisen or may arise among the peoples of Japan, China, Korea, Manchuria and Siberia. These peoples are wrestling with the question of Japan's right to assume political and economic leadership. In spite of their seeming differences however, it may be true that these Asiatic peoples understand one another a great deal better than Americans or Europeans understand any one of them. Our influence, exerted in a friendly and sincere spirit, may help to modify policies and to lessen misunderstandings. But it will continue to be true in the main that these Asiatic peoples must work out their own ways of dealing with one another. We should aim to keep their confidence and to deserve, as well as to profit by, their friendship.

GERMANY'S UNVOLUNTARY DISARMAMENT.

If Germany can prosper without a navy because protected by British, or French, or American, or Japanese armed ships, why should not similar protection be made available for everybody upon some reasonable plan of naval co-operation? Germany will have constant influence upon the positions of the French delegates, and by Premier Briand, because for France all problems of armament must be studied with reference to Germany. The Inter-Allied Control Commission, which sits in Germany to see that land armament proceeds as stipulated in the treaty, has made a recent report that is wholly gratifying. In September, 102 guns were left to be destroyed, as against 32,000 already demolished. There had been destroyed 34,000,000 tons of loaded shells, with only 1,000,000 tons remaining. Of trench mortars, 186 remained, and 110,350 had been destroyed. Machine guns remained to the number of 2,852, and 83,566 had been destroyed. Rifles destroyed were 4,160,000, with 163,000 remaining. A vast quantity of ammunition for small arms had been obliterated. Some Germans doubtless harbor the thought of future military adventure. Various travelers, however, bring back reports to the effect that there is a steadily growing German sentiment that believes Germany's restoration must come by way of industry, science, and education. Germans are working, early and late.

There are various artificial methods which claim to make the ankles slender. Personally I do not think much of them. One method is to bake the ankles, the idea being that the extreme heat melts the surplus flesh. I have seen very serious minded women sit with their ankles in some sort of electrically heated oven looking for all the world like caricatures of seventeenth century people sitting with their feet in the stocks. However, this idea didn't occur to any of them and they went on having their ankles baked thin and being frightfully serious about it.

The woman who wants to make her ankles more slender does not have to go in for anything as elaborate as this. She can massage her ankles very vigorously morning and night, rolling off by the friction of her

BOOTLEG BOOZE.

He bought a half pint in a wynd where bootleg booze is dear, he looked before, he looked behind, to see no cops were near; they took his drink—it made him blind, and he's been blind a year. He was a large and stately man, an athlete, trim and strong, built up along the Milo plan, no pistons hitting wrong; and now a sightless also ran, he toils and gropes along. He really didn't care for drink, he had no costly thirst; but he was aye a haughty gink, his motto, "Freedom First," he said, "I'll sip the scarlet ink, though all the statutes burst. My fathers fought at Bunker Hill that people might be free, and no outrageous Volstead bill can come and hogtie me; so mark my curves and watch me swill a bowl of graveyard tea." He poured the deadly bitters down, and then fell on the floor, and had a fit, and rent his gown, and his long whiskers tore; and though he hobbles through our town, he'll see it never more. The bootleg merchants boost the tomb, and for the death-cart root; they kill the young men in their bloom, and do not care a hoot; the stuff they sell is liquid doom, distilled from Dead Sea fruit. It's made and sold by reckless knaves, this substitute for rye; its victims fill ten thousand graves, and hundreds daily die, and over them the willow waves, the sexton heaves a sigh.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB BANQUETS AT CHURCH THURSDAY

Sixty-eight members of the Xenia Business and Professional Women's club, enjoyed the first social meeting of the organization, held at Trinity E. Church, Thursday evening. A feature was made from the regular business session and gathering of the members being invited to a banquet at the church at six o'clock.

The club members were seated at tables arranged attractively in the social room of the church. The decorations for the affair were yellow tapers placed on the tables, delicious two-course dinner was served.

Miss Allegra Hawes, president of the club, presided at the business session at the close of the banquet. The list of ten new members to the club were submitted by the membership committee, and were favorably acted on by the members.

Three new committees were appointed at the meeting to aid in the work of the club. The committees are: Publicity Committee, the Misses Alice Foley, Ruth Ross; Community Service Committee, the Misses Marshall, Edna Bloom, Amy Ellis; seven members were appointed to the notification committee.

Other committees of the club are: Membership, Miss Clara Wright, Mrs. E. Robertson, Miss Helen Evers; Program, the Misses Henrietta Logan, Edna Ebricht and Charlie Santmyer; Finance, Miss Lorena Paulin, Mrs. D. Mason and Miss Maude Morris.

Following the banquet and business session, the members adjourned to the First Reformed Church, for the presentation of the hopes of different countries represented at the Disarmament Conference was given by Mrs. Conover. A book review of the biography, "The Americanization of Edward Bok," closed the program.

PRIZES AWARDED AT SHOOT THURSDAY

Thursday's rainy weather is believed to have killed the crowd at the shoot held at the gun club at Xenia Country Club.

Only about twelve or fifteen marksmen took part in the shoot, though the committee had a supply of fifteen turkeys, fifteen geese, ten ducks and fifteen chickens. A bird of each variety was put for each ten-bird event shooting the clay pigeons, thus providing prizes.

Many of the marksmen brought several of the prizes.

PASTY FACED MAN HAS POOR BLOOD

Needs Pepto-Mangan to Make New, Rich, Red Blood

The man whose complexion is pasty has impure blood. His health is not robust and the sickly pallor on his face shows it. He acts and looks and feels exhausted most of the time. Everybody he meets notices it.

When a pasty-faced man takes Gude's Pepto-Mangan for a while, he builds up his blood. It drives out the impurities and makes new, rich, red blood. When the new healthy blood gets to work, his complexion clears up, his eyes brighten and he looks alive and robust instead of droopy and sickly. He begins to like the food that is set before him at each meal. He feels like a new man.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes red corpuscles by supplying iron and other ingredients that thin-blooded people need. Drug stores have it in liquid or tablet form. The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on each package.

DINNER STORIES

Jones was talking to some friends of a fishing trip he was contemplating on his holiday.

"Are there any trout up there?" questioned one of the friends.

"Trout? Thousands of 'em," replied the other enthusiastically.

"Will they bite easily?"

"Will they?" reiterated Jones.

"Why, they're absolutely vicious! A man has to hit behind a tree to bait his hook."

"Why don't you take your car out these days?"

"Flat tire."

"Why don't you get it repaired?"

"Flat bankroll."

"Why don't you like to play with the little boy next door? He plays fair, doesn't he?"

"Oh, yes."

"And he doesn't hit when you're down, does he?"

"No; but he might as well. He hits me every time I get up."

A back Bay lady tells of overhearing her newly hired girl making her first attempt to answer the telephone.

"Hello!" came from the receiver.

"Hello!" answered the girl, "flushed with pride at being able to give the prompt answer."

"Who is this?" continued the voice.

"I don't know," exclaimed the maid. "I can't see you."

A very fat man for the purpose of quizzing his doctor, asked him to prescribe for a complaint, which he declared was sleeping with his mouth open.

"Sir," said the physician, "your disease is incurable. Your skin is too short, so that when you shut your eyes, your mouth opens."

SHORT SKIRTS ARE NOW TABOO AT WILBERFORCE

Low cut shoes, woolen stockings, short skirts and georgette waists, are banned from co-eds at Wilberforce University.

An edict handed down by the Council of Women, as announced by Mrs. J. T. Washington, Dean of Women at the University, forbids any and all of this type of wearing apparel, the ruling taking effect Wednesday.

In keeping with the ruling, co-eds at the institution were busy hunting up high shoes, long skirts and opaque waists and other apparel in compliance with the regulations set forth. More than two hundred girls adopted the regulation of clothes the first day, and others invaded Xenia stores in an attempt to replenish their wardrobes with so-called sensible clothing.

Now that this year's season is nearing its close I think it would be a good thing for the average golfer to devote the playing days he may still have this fall entirely to practice. This can precede any indoor work he may do this winter and make him ready for much better playing when the fairways bloom in the spring.

I have spoken how I have narrowed down my bag of clubs. This has largely been possible by that valuable club—the jigger. The jigger adds something to every golfer's range of play. It has so many uses and comes in so handily in so many different places that I sometimes think this club should be renamed. I would call it old six-in-one for I think I could play almost the whole game with it.

The jigger came into the game in comparatively recent years—I don't know exactly when it made its first appearance. I got hold of one and I liked it from the start. I use it now so much that often I notice that my first impulse is to call for the jigger on many different shots, and when I use any other club it is only after the shot has first been measured for the jigger.

The jigger will put out a drive of 200 yards easily enough. It makes a good tee club when there is a hill or water hazard to be carried. It also is great from the tee when the player wishes his ball to stop dead. The jigger lofts the ball and, when the ball is hard hit with it, I think there is a tendency to impart some back-spin to the ball which makes the shot fall with little run. As I always have believed that golf should be played through the air this use of the jigger appeals to me. I usually use my jigger for pitch shots to the green unless the pitch is very short. For long pitches, say 150 yards, I find the jigger better than the midiron.

Out on the fairway I always use the jigger for the short iron shots and I find myself the last year or so inclined to press the jigger a little instead of taking a longer iron. I get better results that way. I can hit the ball a little high with the jigger and get almost brassie distance with a truer flight.

To alternate the fall practice and make it more interesting the player might well look to the manner in which he keeps his weight ahead of his shot. If he fails to do this the old enemies Slice and Hook appear. The player should hit distinctly from the take-off at end of back stroke. That is, just as you start the club down, begin to hit the ball. The aim at the ball really begins at that point, and with a good balance at the top of the upward swing, or, in other words, at the instant when the down swing begins, a clean hit and a pretty ball are likely to result.

Do not straighten the left arm out stiffly, for doing so will give you a tendency to sweep the ball off the tee rather than hit it of, with also the danger that the hands will precede the clubhead. My tip is this: Let the left arm bend just a little bit at the end, not much, but enough to let you feel the rhythm, to make you sense that you are going to hit the ball.

All golf methods should be employed approximately for the physique of every player differs from that of others and the manner of playing thus must vary a bit, too. When you feel the clubhead like a weight it will dip a trifle at the end of the back stroke, instead of being on a straight line. This gives a more relaxed wrist, better rhythm and more snap to the club face and better ball impact, which in turn give a smoother flight and more pace to the ball. Because I had in mind making the two halves of the stroke exactly the same I corrected the follow-through by not letting the right arm finish too stiffly. I also have shortened down my driving swing a good deal on the upward stroke, which gives me more accuracy. However, I use the following as a good deal in day by day playing. I shorten it up in tournament play, where accuracy and accuracy alone, I hold, leads to championships. The longer swing yields more zest for the average player, who likes a good long ball regardless of whether it is on some precise spot on the fairway.

Some rounds of straight practice with the jigger and with an effort to put the ideas I have mentioned into the swing will yield the golfer such results this season, now so near its end, will round out bigger and better than he perhaps had hoped for. And other years cometh.

Will History Repeat Itself? Here is Last Xenia High Team to Defeat Springfield

Xenia high foot ball team of 1910. Standing: left to right—William Frayer, Fred Schultz, John Baldner, Ray Johnson,

R. Hayes Hamilton, manager; seated—Dilver Belden, Paul B. Evers, Louis Gregg, James Savage, Karl Buck, Moudy

Barnett and Alfred McNeff; lying down—William Shadrach and Harold Wittington.

Will history, after eleven long years when hope after hope has gone down in despair, finally repeat itself?

This is the question that followers of the Central high school teams are asking themselves in anticipation of the game between the blue and white eleven and Springfield high at Gatch Field, Saturday afternoon.

It is generally conceded, that Coach Katherman's crowd, with eight straight victories to its credit and not a single defeat, has the best chance of beating Springfield that it has had in the last decade. For it was 11 years ago that the blue and white eleven conquered the Clark county team, thereby handing the Springfielders the only defeat they have ever suffered at the hands of a Xenia high team.

The victory was not only the last time, but was the first time that a legitimate Central High team, composed entirely of high school players defeated the Springfield combination. The team was composed of Fred Schultz, at full back, William Frazer and Ray Johnson, at the halves, John Baldner at quarterback, Dilver Belden and Alfred McNeff at the ends, Paul Evers and Moudy Barnett at the tackles, Karl Buck and Lewis Gregg at the guards and James Savage at center. William Shadrach and Harold Wittington were the substitutes on that team and R. Hayes Hamilton was the manager for all sports that year.

Schultz scored the first touchdown for Xenia in the first eight minutes of play and also kicked goal, making the score 6-0, the touchdown counting five points in those days. In the second quarter, Captain McLaughlin of Springfield made their first touchdown but lost the chance to kick. In the last quarter Schultz scored another touchdown and the final touchdown was made when Frayer intercepted a Springfield pass and ran for the last marker. Stanley Netts, later a Wittenberg and Princeton football and basketball star, played end for Springfield, and the following year, at halfback, he contributed much towards Springfield's defeat of Xenia, 29-0.

Since 1910, the locals have never been able to defeat the Springfield eleven. No matter how good a team was trained here the Clark county crowd seemed to have the jinx on the blue and white crowd and always came out victorious. In 1911 the score was 29-0 and in 1912 Xenia lost by the score of 95-0 at Springfield. Last year the locals were defeated 48-0, and with a winning combination this year believe they have the best opportunity to repeat the 1910 trick since that time.

The lineup Saturday will probably be as follows:

Coach Katherman has been using Smith at guard, because this lad, although really an end, is a good utility player and defensive man and strengthens the line well, while the mentor has a trio of good end men in Purdom, Cowan and Reutinger who can step into the game at any time. It is possible that he will alternate Smith at guard with Ferguson, Douthett or David also, while Purdom has been used at half back so he can fill that position creditably in case of necessity. With Captain McCallister and Lonnes out of the game, it is assumed that the locals will not be suffering from overconfidence in this game, but will be in there to play all of the time.

REFORMED CHURCH

Young man! If you have no romance of God in your soul, you are not a young man. You're a fossil. You may be but twenty years of age but you are 2000 years behind the times. Without fibre or sap. Oh! But if you have but one idea one inspiration, which strikes away into the future—which breaks the out of the grind, grind, of walking meshes of red tape, which gets you in a circle and getting you nowhere the fussy parade of how not to do it. Come to church and start something, with one nation, honest, and downright, looking ahead, and meaning some business with God.

then cling to it, work it till it works itself out. That's a romance. Bible School 9:15. The International Sabbath School lesson. 10:30 a. m. Divine Worship and sermon. Topic "The Romance of Stewardship." This congregation will unite with the Group Evangelistic Service in the First U. P. Church. Dr. D. D. Dodds preaching the sermon. God certainly is blessing these services. The crowds are the assurance of souls being saved. The services begin at 7:00 p. m.

Why The First Aid To Good Health Is Pure Blood

Waste Products in the Blood Cause Many Forms of Rheumatism, Skin Disorders, and A Lowered Vitality.

Many People Do Not Understand Nature's Warning.

When you have that feeling of fatigue; when you lack the energy you need for the day's duties and pleasure; when you are troubled with pimples, blackheads, bad boils, sores or some other skin eruption; or when you have rheumatic pains in the muscles and joints, don't wait until you collapse in a state of nervous prostration, or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but start at once to get the waste products out of your blood. Nature has certain peculiar ways to warn us. Fortunate, indeed, is the person who knows her danger signals. Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have relied on S. S. S. to clear their blood of waste products. S. S. S. will improve the quality of your blood by relieving you of the waste products which cause impoverished blood and its allied troubles—skin disorders, rheumatism and a lowered vitality. The same qualities which give S. S. S. its beneficial effect in clearing your blood of waste products make it extremely desirable for keeping your blood in good condition. S. S. S. may be had at any drug store. Write Chief Medical Director Swift Specific Co., 715 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga., and let him help you regain your health and strength. Give him a full description of your case. He is helping people every day (without charge). Ask him to send you his illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores.

Soprano High "C" Without "Metallic" Suggestion A Brunswick Achievement Vouched For By Highest Musical Authorities

Musicians, critics, teachers, all will tell you the severe test of a phonograph is in rendering "high notes," especially soprano.

Remember this when buying a phonograph, and insist that soprano records be played.

Note, then, how most instruments vibrate, sound "metallic" when the higher notes are reached.

Then hear the same records on The Brunswick.

Hear the full range of "high notes." Soprano High "C" in ringing intensity, without slightest "metallic" intrusion—clear-toned, vibrationless! And you will marvel at difference so great in phonographs.

Thousands have made it

Thousands of music lovers have made this comparison. And chosen The Brunswick. Highest musical authorities have made it, with the same result. So when one inquires, in the world of musical art, which instrument is preferred, the number who say The Brunswick is surprising.

And they say, too, that while any make of record is sweeter and more beautiful on a Brunswick, the ideality is attained with a Brunswick Record on a Brunswick phonograph.

This is why

By means of exclusive methods of Reproduction and of Interpretation, Brunswick achieves perfect rendition of the so-called "difficult" tones—the piano, the harp, the human voice. Methods which apply to no other phonographs or records.

The Brunswick Method of Reproduction is exclusively Brunswick. The Brunswick Method of Interpretation, in producing records, has not been successfully imitated.

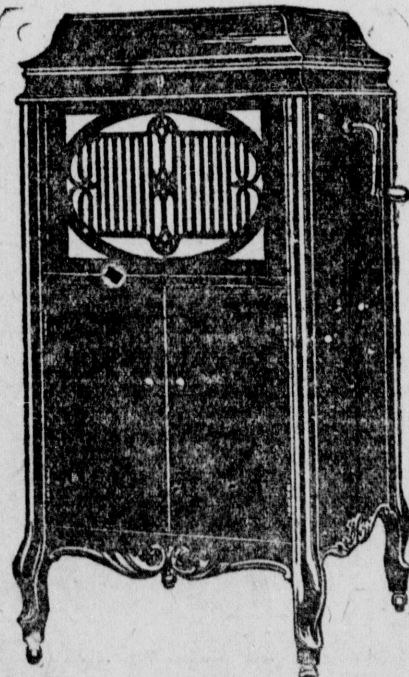

Hence, buying any phonograph without at least hearing The Brunswick, is a mistake. And to be without Brunswick Records is to be without much of what is best in music.

The Brunswick plays all records, and Brunswick Records can be played on any phonograph. Hear, compare—then judge for yourself.

Why Can't You, Too, Be Well and Strong?

FEW of us realize how precious good health is until we begin to lose it. To be well is to enjoy life and make a good time for those around us. To be constantly ailing is to miss life's pleasures and to look with envy upon our robust friends and neighbors. Are you one of the unfortunates? Is your health slowly slipping away? It's time, then, you looked to your kidneys! Much sickness of today is traceable to kidney weakness. Its increase is alarming. That's because it's usually unseen or neglected. But it's easy to tell if your kidneys are weak. You may have only backache; a lameness, stiffness, or sharp stabbing pains; dizzy spells, headaches, or annoying bladder irregularities.

If you have these symptoms, suspect your kidneys! Remember that delay may result in serious kidney sickness.

But why dwell on the dark picture? Rather think of the brighter side! To remedy such a weakness is to add years to your life and to regain the health and strength that enables you to enter life's daily battle with joy and enthusiasm.

If you've reason to suspect your kidneys, read the stories of these Xenia people. They tell how they have won back good health through Doan's Kidney Pills, the world's best-recommended kidney remedy. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's" Say These Xenia Folks;

O. T. SMITH, retired railroad man, 516 W. Second St., says: "I had no end of kidney trouble and suffered a great deal with lumbago. Sharp, piercing pains shot through the small of my back when I tried to stoop the least bit. My back became cramped and I could hardly straighten after stooping. Colds settled on my kidneys, leaving them weak and irregular. Nights I got up four or five times to pass the secretions which were highly colored and contained a sediment like brick-dust. Doan's Kidney Pills had been so highly recommended I got some. Several boxes relieved me of those terrible pains in my back and my kidneys were put in a normal condition."

MRS. MARY MATTOX, 12 Leaman St., says: "My kidneys became disordered and I suffered a great deal from pains in my back. My back seemed to throb and there was a steady ache across it just over my kidneys. My back was sore and lame and felt so knotted up at times I could hardly move. Sharp pains shot through my back when I stooped. My kidneys were irregular in action and this caused me considerable annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly praised so I got some at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store. A few boxes did excellent work for me. The troubles left and I again knew what good health meant."

CHURCH WILL END SPECIAL WEEK SUNDAY

The week of special programs, held by the young people's organizations of the First M. E. Church during the "Win-My-Chum Week" will close Sunday evening, with an address by the Rev. Howard M. LeSourd, student pastor of the Ohio State University. The young people of the city are invited to the service.

"Win-My-Chum Week" opened in the local church with a campfire meeting of all the junior societies at the church, Monday evening. A free-for-all "pop" meeting was held Wednesday night, at which many young people who were interested in the meetings were present. On Friday night, a candle light service will be held and the members of the societies are inviting all the young people of the city to enjoy the program.

MEDICAL ADVISORY BOARD WILL MEET ABOUT DECEMBER 1

The first meeting of the newly appointed medical advisory board of the district tuberculosis hospital near Springfield will be held about December 1, it is now said.

The medical advisory board consists of two physicians for each county represented in the district hospital and has been formed for the purpose of interesting physicians in the hospital and giving aid to the hospital staff in the medical treatment given there.

The members are appointed by the presidents of the county medical societies in the various counties, and Dr. R. Kent Finley of this city and Dr. M. I. Marsh of Cedarville, represent Greene county on the board. They have nothing to do with the administration of business at the hospital, but will meet at stated intervals.

At the first meeting it is expected to organize the board and talk over the hospital situation.

PRIEST TRANSFERRED FROM JAMESTOWN

The Rev. William P. O'Connor, said his last Mass as pastor of St. Augustine's Catholic Church at Jamestown, Friday morning.

The Rev. Father O'Connor left Friday, for Sedamsville near Cincinnati, where he has been transferred by Archbishop Henry Moeller, and where he will have charge of the erection of a new church.

The Rev. Walter Makely, of Dayton, who has been assigned to the pastorate of St. Augustine's is expected to arrive in Jamestown Saturday. The Rev. Father O'Connor served as pastor of the Catholic Church in Jamestown for two years last September. He was a chaplain during the world war, and while in Jamestown was prominently connected with the Legion Post, at one time being its commander. He made many friends, while in the village and was active in many community affairs.

KELBLE EXPANDS TAILORING BUSINESS

William Kelble, tailor in the Frazer building, second floor, on East Main street, has leased the front room on the third floor of the building and is expanding his business into the dry cleaning and pressing field.

Mr. Kelble has installed a steam pressing machine in the new room and has made arrangements with a Dayton concern to handle the dry cleaning end of the business. The new machine is installed and ready for service. Mr. Kelble will continue his general tailoring also in his present location, using both floors of the building.

MRS. M. M. JENKINS CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Maude Marie Jenkins, 35, wife of Fred Jenkins, of Rosemont, near Jamestown, died at Grant Hospital Columbus, Thursday morning at one o'clock, following an operation for gall stones and appendicitis. The operation was performed Wednesday, and she never recovered, a weak heart causing death.

Mrs. Jenkins was before her marriage

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Efficient Housekeeping

By Laura A. Kirkman

HELPFUL LETTERS FROM READERS

Mrs. B.: "I like to make chocolate cream candies and when I dip the fondant into the chocolate, I always use a toothpick, stuck into the candy. After the chocolate sets on the candy I dip the toothpick back into the chocolate and fill in the little hole made in the candy by the toothpick in dipping. I also make the little extra curl over the top of each coated candy, with a toothpick; I dip the toothpick back into the chocolate put a little dab on top of each chocolate-covered candy, and twist slightly."

Reader: "Here is my recipe for Nut Jelly: 6 tablespoons granulated tapioca, 3 cups hot water, 2 cups of brown sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup English walnut-meats broken, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Place the hot water and the salt in a double boiler and stir in the tapioca and brown sugar. Cook until clear, stirring frequently. This requires about 45 minutes of cooking. Then turn the mixture into a bowl and let cool. When cold but not jelled, add nuts and vanilla. Chill thoroughly. Serve with plain cream poured over it, or with whipped cream."

Old Housekeeper: "I have made silklike bed comforts for many years and I find they last longer and need to be washed less often if I buy an extra yard of silklike to match the comfort, hem this neatly, and keep it over the folded comfort during the day at the foot of the bed."

Original: "Everybody who ever tasted my oatmeal cookies has asked me what I did to give them their rich, 'nutty' flavor. Here is my secret: Before mixing the cookies I put the raw oatmeal in the oven on a pan and leave it there until it is crisped through, then I crumble it between my hands before mixing it with the other ingredients."

Frequent Hostess: "My children are always bringing their young friends home to supper, so I have to keep a well-stocked Emergency Shelf for these unexpected guests. Here is the main standby on that shelf."

Whenever I bake beans I cook more than we need for one meal, and the surplus I put in hot, sterilized pint-sized glass jars, adjust rubbers and glass covers, put the top wire over the cap but not the side wire down; then I boil this jar for 2 hours under boiling water in a large soup kettle on a small wooden rack that my husband made for the purpose. At the end of the two hours I remove jar from pot, press down side wire, let cool, and put on the Emergency Shelf. It is always ready to be reheated at a moment's notice."

Economical: "My husband's salary is very small, so I have to make my possessions do double duty. Instead of buying a new carpet for the living room, I have brightened the faded colors of the old one by the following method, which a neighbor suggested: I went to the drug store and bought a prepared weak solution of sulphuric acid, and with this I went over the carpet; I dipped the cloth into the weak acid to apply—wearing gloves on my hands—and then I rubbed the carpet briskly with a rough towel to dry and freshen. This acid is dangerous to use in the raw state, so have a druggist weaken it for you."

DRESSER NAMED.

Berlin, Nov. 17.—Loring Dressel today notified the German foreign office that he has been officially appointed charge d'affaires for the United States at Berlin, pending appointment of an ambassador. Herr Bergmann is expected to be named the German charge d'affaires at Washington.

THE NEW GENERATION

By Jane Phelps

A BROKEN ENGAGEMENT CHAPTER 93.

Was Hannah right? And if so was it her duty to remain a widow because of Joan's objections? Only too well did Margaret Hayden know that Joan would keep her word and separate from her if she married while she, Joan, was so opposed to it. Which could she bear best—separation from Joan, the knowledge that she had lost her and her love, or the giving up of the dream that had come to her so late, the dream of happiness with Craig Forrester?

All the long evening, after she had bade Hannah goodnight, Margaret sat in the dark by the window, trying to decide. Someway she had a feeling it could not be put off longer. Her lips quivered when she recalled Joan's coldness, her aloofness of the day before, so in contrast to her comradeship of the preceding days when they had worked so happily together, then lunch so gayly.

Then as she thought of Craig Forrester, a slow tear crept unheeded down her cheek. She had builded such a beautiful dream, such rosy air castles. And poor Craig! He loved her she knew. Was it right to spoil two lives to keep one young girl happy?

"I brought her into the world. It is to her I owe my first duty."

Margaret did not speak these words aloud, yet she would almost have sworn that she did, so emphatic was her thought.

Quietly she undressed and went to bed.

After breakfast she telephoned Craig Forrester. He came at once.

"I want to be released from my engagement, Craig. I never can marry you."

"But Margaret! What can have happened since yesterday? Is it—It is Joan! I won't release you, Margaret! It is wicked for you to ask it. You love me. I know you do, dear," all his flip pant manner giving place to great seriousness. "Do you think it right to ruin two lives?"

"I brought her into the world. It is to her I owe my first duty."

Parrot-like Margaret repeated the words of her thought the night before—the thought that had not left her, even in her sleep, because it had colored her dreams.

Long Craig pleaded. But Margaret was adamant.

"But Joan may marry!"

"Even if she does it may not be for years, Craig. It would be most unfair to you to hold that out as a hope we could marry."

"But if I want it so? Why Margaret, it is the most Quixotic idea I ever heard of! Surely you won't deny you love me?" he held her tenderly to him as he saw the quiver of her lips, a quiver she could not control.

"No, Craig, and it is because I love you that I let you go. I can't keep on torn between my love for you and for Joan. I can't! I must decide it once for all."

"And I must go?"

"Yes, Craig." Then again she repeated: "I brought her into the world. It is to her I owe my first duty."

They talked some time longer. Craig urged her no more, but declared he never would give her up.

"We may still be good friends, see each other as friends do," he asked.

"Of course!—if you wish. But for a time don't come so often, Craig. It will be easier for me," again that quiver of the mobile lips, "and Craig, don't come at all on Sunday. I want Joan to be happy when she is with me, and she would be continually reminded of what the professor said if you were here."

"I see! Very well, Margaret." He spoke rather coldly. But his conscience smote him as he looked at her pale face, and he assured her in his old frank manner that her word was law. Then, as he said goodbye, he whimsically remarked:

"I shall spend the rest of my life getting Joan a husband."

Margaret was, like Joan, little prone to tears. But after the door closed upon the one love of her life she broke down utterly and wept as she had not for years. It had been harder to give him up even than she had thought.

Tomorrow—Friends With Joan Again.

Farmers Help Us, To Help You

Why are we paying you several cents over market price for your grain today? Because we mill your grain into flour, corn meal and feeds.

You can help increase the price of your grain, by using and asking your friends to use "DeWine's Flour" made from your wheat. "DeWine's Corn Meal" made from your corn. "DeWine's Feeds" all varieties made from your corn, wheat, oats and rye.

Why buy flour, made in Kansas and Minnesota, and feeds made afar off at high prices on account of high freight rates, when you can buy flour, corn-meal, and feeds, made from your own grain, that we guarantee to be just as good, if not better, and can prove same by test, at much less cost to you.

Why are you buying bread at the rate of twenty to thirty dollars per barrel of flour, made from Kansas and spring wheat, when you can buy "DeWine's Flour" which is just as good, for seven to eight dollars per barrel, made from your wheat.

TOWN PEOPLE HELP US, TO HELP THE FARMERS, TO HELP YOU

We buy the farmers grain and mill it into Flour, Corn-meal, Poultry Feeds and Stock Feeds. All of which we guarantee, to give absolute satisfaction, and best by test.

Therefore buy the farmers grain through us, in the way of Flour, Corn-meal and Feeds, By doing this your money goes direct to the farmers and in turn the farmers comes back to your town and spends this money, which helps you.

When you go into a store and buy Kansas Flour and Spring Wheat Flour and western products, you are helping the western farmers instead of Ohio farmers, and your money spent may never come back to your town again.

Therefore, hereafter always ask your grocer, your dealer for "DeWine's Best," "Good Luck," or "Xenia Straight Flour," "DeWine's Scratch Feeds," and "DeWine's Stock Feeds." By doing this you will help us to help the farmer, to help you.
